DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 4, 5, 10, 13 and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Portman '099.

There is disclosed in Portman a container for serving infused liquid beverages made from infusion bags having a string and tag attached, the container comprising a receptacle 11 for holding liquid, a lid 21 for the receptacle provided with an opening having a first portion (slits) 47 which are capable of gripping the string of the infusion bag and a second portion (aperture) 61, located on the first portion, through which the string of the infusion bag can move, and a dispensing outlet 91 in the lid, wherein the first portion comprises a plurality of slits which are aligned with the aperture and extend at angles therefrom.

Portman discloses the claimed invention except for slits that extend at right angles. It would have been an obvious matter of design choice to extend the angles at right angles as opposed to the angle shown in Portman, since applicant has not disclosed that slits at right angles solves any state problem or is for any particular purpose and it appears that the invention would perform equally well with the angles shown in Portman.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed May 20, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that the prior art fails to disclose a slit having further slits which extend at right angles.

While Portman fails to disclose the slits at right angles, there are disclosed slits which extend at some unknown angle. The function of the slits in Portman is the same as those disclosed by applicant. There appears to be no advantage or nothing novel about extending tea bags from a slit which extends at a right angle as opposed to the angle shown in the prior art. Forming slits at right angles appears to be an obvious matter of design choice.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
